Warm-up

1. A relaxing scene using photos taken from an exotic location.

You see yourself as a caring gentle person who always has a smile or kind words for others.

To others it seems like you have wall up around you and you don't let anything get through.

title in N.B.

Warm-up

2. A fun cartoon drawing or other playful image.

You're social, talkative, and fun to be around.
And you know it.

Others may see you as unreliable and that you get carried away by the moment.

Be careful that people are laughing with you,
not at you.

Warm-up

3. An abstract pattern without any clear meaning, but makes people think.

You work hard to express your creativity and talent to the world. You need to remember that other people are talent too. If you really want to shine, you need to accept and work together with others.

title in N.B.

Warm-up

4. A picture of yourself

You don't hide yourself. "This is me, take me as I am," and you see that honesty as your strongest trait.

Be careful because honesty can be seen as stubbornness – "This is me, I'm never going to change."

Self-Character Analysis

Today we will begin writing process on an essay about yourself.

Essay Prompt:

Identify and discuss the most significant traits in your character—those traits that make up who you are. Explain how you have developed those traits. Tell why those traits are important for your future plans and success you see in your life.

Significant Traits

Now with your five traits, fill out the boxes about how you developed this trait and how it can help you.

Personality Trait	How did you develop this trait?	How can this help you in your future plans?
1. Patience	I worked with small kids and high school students for many years and I learned to be patient.	Patience will help me in the future as I will need to be patient as I will be a father some day and need patience when raising kids.
