

ELD 4

September 17th

- I can add compound verbs and adjectives to sentences to help readers better visualize the scene.
- I can compare and contrast advantages and disadvantages of collaborative work.

Warm-Up

Choose one of the sentences below and write it in your notebook.

The team plays soccer on the field.

The student takes the pass to the bathroom.

The teacher calls on the students.

Warm-Up

Identify the nouns (people, places, things) and add 3 adjectives to the sentence to give it more detail.

Example:

- The custodian sweeps the hallway.
- The tired, overworked custodian sweeps the long, messy hallway.

If you are having trouble, check your warm-up from Monday (Sept. 15)

Warm-Up

Now take this new sentence and lets add some compound verbs. Like yesterday, think about what was happening before and after your sentence. Add at least one more action to your sentence.

- The tired, overworked custodian sweeps and mops the long, messy hallway.

If you are having trouble, check your warm-up from Yesterday (Sept. 16)

Review

Identify the Claim

Looking back at the article
The Collaborative Advantage, find the claim
(there may be more than one)

In the article, The Collaborative Advantage, the author claims that _____.

Review

Turn and Talk

Check your claim with your A-B partner.

Did you find the same claim(s)? If not, which one sounds like the more important claim for this article.

Use your chart to figure out which claim is the “main idea” of this article.

The claim with the most supporting evidence, will be the main idea.

Review

Support

Once you and your partner have decided which claim is the “key claim”, look at your chart and find the pieces of evidence that support that idea.

Circle all the pieces of evidence in your chart that support the claim. Be ready to share what you’ve found.

Claim/Support Statement

In the article, The Collaborative Advantage, the author claims that _____.

This claim is supported in paragraph _____ when the author explains/states that _____.

Academic Discussion

Academic Discussion

What are the advantages and disadvantages of collaborative assignments?

In your notebook make a T-chart and independently, brainstorm two lists. Write at least two ideas in each column.

Academic Discussion

Problem

What are the advantages and disadvantages of collaborative assignments?

In your notebook make a T-chart and independently, brainstorm two lists. Write at least two ideas in each column.

Academic Discussion

Problem

What are the advantages and disadvantages of collaborative assignments?

In your notebook make a T-chart and independently, brainstorm two lists. Write at least two ideas in each column.

Advantages	Disadvantages
• Many ideas to think about	• Could take longer to finish